Introduction

“As an ali‘i trust, our kuleana starts back at the very beginning. We know our role in education was given to us by Princess Pauahi, but we also work alongside other ali‘i trusts who have the same kuleana to the same people. Our objective is to make sure we deliver as best we can comprehensively for our entire lāhui.”

—LIVINGSTON “JACK” WONG,
KS CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Aloha mai kākou,

BERNICE PAUHI BISHOP was a visionary woman. She saw – more than 130 years ago – that education would empower Native Hawaiians to be successful and to rise up as leaders, both in Hawai‘i and globally.

As stewards of Princess Pauahi’s ‘āina and legacy, we are committed to continue what she envisioned for our people. We do this by focusing on our mission: to create educational opportunities in perpetuity to improve the capability and well-being of people of Hawaiian ancestry. We are also guided by an ambitious strategic plan (SP2020) and Vision 2040, which envisions a thriving lāhui where all Native Hawaiian learners achieve greater success.

Looking back over the past year, we see progress toward learner outcomes and systems change. Looking ahead, we envision improved systems that will lead to social change, environmental restoration, and successful Native Hawaiians contributing to a bright future for Hawai‘i nei and beyond.

WAWA

MAKAWALU

THE THEME FOR THIS YEAR'S annual report is Makawalu. In Hawaiian thinking, to have makawalu is to possess the insight that comes from multiple perspectives. It is to see with “eight eyes.” The work that we do at Kamehameha Schools is multifaceted, and to effectively serve our beneficiaries, we must practice makawalu. In the following pages are eight stories. They highlight some of our work from 2017, each showcasing a different facet of makawalu at Kamehameha Schools. From improving the network of care and education for Hāna’s youngest learners to protecting our last reserves of native forest and species in Keauhou and Kilauea, what we gain from the diversity of efforts and perspectives is returned to the lāhui.

Bridging the Gaps

HE NUI NŌ NĀ LIMA nāna e hānai i ke keiki, a ma Hāna, ua laulima pū nā kumu a’o e ho’opihapiha ai i nā hana e pono ai ka hānai ‘ana i nā kamali’i ‘ōpiopio loa e hele nei i ke kula. Ma ka 2017, ua hui like ke Kula Kamehameha, ke Kula Kī’eki’e a me ke Kula Ha’aha’a o Hāna, ka Pūnana Leo o Hāna, a me Hale Hi’ipoi, a kapa ‘ia kēia hui ‘ana ‘o Nā Maka Kilo o Hāna. Ua hālāwai kūkā nā lālā i kēlā makahiki aku nei e ho’ākāka ai i nā mea a me nā hana e pono ai no ka ho’ona’auao ‘ana i nā kamali’i. Ma kēia kui lima pū ‘ana, hiki nō i nā kumu o Hāna ke ho’omākaukau pono i nā kamali’i no ke kula ha’aha’a me ka holomua hou aku. Nui nō ka ha’aehe o ke Kula Kamehameha i ka laulima pū ma ka hana!

IT TAKES MANY HANDS to raise a keiki, and in Hāna, the spirit of laulima has early childhood educators working together to close the gaps for its youngest learners. In 2017, Kamehameha Schools, along with Hāna High and Elementary School, Pūnana Leo o Hāna, and Hale Hi’ipoi, formed a hui called Nā Maka Kilo o Hāna. Members met last year to identify needs and opportunities in education and childcare. With joined hands, Hāna’s kumu can better prepare its keiki for elementary school and beyond, and Kamehameha Schools is proud to ho’olaulima.

PRESCHOOL IS ESSENTIAL to a child’s development, yet for many families, a shortage of affordable options stands in the way of enrollment. In the remote community of Kohala, a free public preschool opened in 2017, and it launched with the help of a Kamehameha Schools community investment grant.

The grant provided the seed funding Kohala Elementary School needed to open its first pre-kindergarten class and made it a strong candidate for continued support through the Executive Office on Early Learning, which oversees the state’s 19 free public preschools. Last year, Kohala Elementary was one of five new DOE sites to be selected for public funding.

It’s welcome news for Paris Nicoll, a mother of three whose eldest son, Zyan, is now in the program. “It’s preparing him for the next stage of life, that’s definitely something we’re very grateful for.”

Above, Paris Nicoll shares a laugh with her keiki, Iri and Zyan; below, Kohala Elementary School Principal Danny Garcia leveraged the seed funding from a KS community investment grant to secure public funding for his preschool program.

WHEN YOU ENTER the Family Treatment Center at The Queen's Medical Center, you're greeted with vibrant walls of color. Both sides of its central hall are painted with lavender mountains bathed in golden light. Water pours from calabashes into a ribbon of turquoise. Giant pink kalo sprout from the floor.

The mural is the work of graffiti artist John "Prime" Hina and the young patients at the Family Treatment Center, where children and teens, many of them Native Hawaiian, receive care for emotional and behavioral issues. Their collaboration is the result of a partnership between Kamehameha Schools and Queen's Native Hawaiian Health Program.

For the past two years, Hina and his alaka'i have worked closely with staff to integrate cultural practices and creative expression into the youths' therapy sessions. Together, they've painted the hall, lobby, and 10 patient rooms, where Hawaiian values like kuleana and ahonui provide the theme. Hina has seen his students' transformations reflected in the bright swirls of color that now cover the once drab beige walls. "We want them to be in that space where they feel free," he explains, "that's when the healing can begin."

“... Princess Bernice Pauahi Bishop is the great grand-daughter of Kamehameha 'ekahi, and she had a vision to help restore her people. While she was alive she saw the rapid decline of her people and her culture, so she saw education as a path for the restoration of her people.”

KUMU JOEL TRUESDELL has taught chemistry at Kamehameha Schools for almost 30 years, and in that time, he has become a leading practitioner of culture-based education. Last year, he received the prestigious Shell Science Teaching Award from the National Science Teachers Association for his innovative methods.

A culture-based curriculum incorporates ‘āina, along with Hawaiian knowledge and practices, to engage students and help make the subject matter relevant. Truesdell’s students, for example, learn college-prep chemistry in the process of restoring a koa forest.

His award reflects a growing enthusiasm for culture-based methods, aided in part by kumu teaching other kumu. Truesdell found a mentor in Dr. Walter Kahumoku, a former speech teacher at KS Kapālama and early adopter of culture in the classroom. Ask Kahumoku why it’s important to introduce other kumu to these approaches, and his answer is simple: “Because they work.”

Joel Truesdell, above, credits Dr. Walter Kahumoku KSK’79, below, with introducing him to the many applications of culture-based education.

Financial Activities

JULY 1, 2016—JUNE 30, 2017

FORWARDING OUR MISSION

Fiscal year 2017 marks the halfway point in Kamehameha Schools' Strategic Plan 2015-2020 (SP2020), the first in a series of strategic plans that will bring transformative change across the lāhui within a generation; our financial and land assets play a key role in this effort. Through careful management of these assets, our organization is able to advance its mission, and in 2017, we continued to make great progress towards SP2020's central objective: to significantly increase the success rate of Native Hawaiians in college, career, and leadership pursuits.

VISION 2040

“Within a generation of 25 years, we see a thriving lāhui where our learners achieve postsecondary educational success, enabling good life and career choices. We also envision that our learners will be grounded in Christian and Hawaiian values and will be leaders who contribute to their communities, both locally and globally.”

► Endowment

KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS TRUST

► Kamehameha Schools' mission is primarily supported by its endowment. The endowment was valued at $11.5 billion as of June 30, 2017. A globally diversified financial assets portfolio of $8.0 billion, and Hawai'i real estate representing $3.5 billion at fair market value comprise the endowment's value.

KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS TRUST SPENDING

► For this fiscal year, Kamehameha Schools had a total educational spend of $363 million, which is equal to a 3.6 percent spend rate for this year. The average spend rate was 3.8 percent for the last five years and 3.7 percent for last 10 years. Educational spend consists of $197 million on campus-based programs, $97 million on scholarships and community-focused programs, and $69 million on other educational costs primarily capital, debt financing, and support services.

Kamehameha Schools is a private charitable educational trust endowed by the will of Hawaiian Princess Bernice Pauahi Bishop (1831-1884), the great-granddaughter and last direct descendant of King Kamehameha I.

During her lifetime, Princess Pauahi witnessed the rapid decline of the Native Hawaiian population. She knew that education would be key to the survival of her people, and in an enduring act of aloha, she bequeathed to them a precious gift – 375,000 acres of ancestral lands of the royal Kamehameha family and instructions to her trustees that the “rest, residue and remainder of my estate” be used to establish the Kamehameha Schools.

Today, as it has for the past 130 years, Ke Ali'i Pauahi's legacy continues to advance her desire to restore the well-being of her people.

INVESTMENT RETURNS

► Kamehameha Schools' endowment is managed primarily by using long-term investment return and educational spending metrics to best align with long-term investment and spending policies, which were adopted in 2000 to ensure long-term financial stability, equilibrium, and real growth for our perpetual organization.

Maenette K.P. Ah Nee - Benham KSK'74, Chancellor of University of Hawai'i at West O'ahu recalls the beginnings of Hui Ho'opili 'Āina as coming from a desire to see what KS and UH could accomplish together.

“The collaborations I see that are starting to really make a difference are the ones we started off with first – with the University of Hawai'i and with Cham-inade. These partnerships have given us really good intelligence about how to prepare and support our students better. Even though we're definitely focused on student results, we're just as, or even more, interested in what kind of changes we need to make as educational institutions.”

LAST SEPTEMBER marked the second anniversary of a partnership between Kamehameha Schools and the University of Hawai'i called Hui Ho'opili 'Āina. What began as a mutual commitment to promote Native Hawaiian student success, mālama 'āina, and Hawaiian language and knowledge is coming into focus with the rollout of several exciting initiatives.

One is a dual-credit program, in which KS, Hawaiian charter, and immersion school students can earn college credits through the UH system. Another is Makalapua Na'auao, a UH scholarship that combines four years of financial aid with academic and career support. And not far out is the aloha 'āina degree pathway, currently in development under UH West O'ahu's Sustainable Community Food Systems program.

IT'S AN EXCITING CHAPTER in the story of Kaka'ako. Construction's winding down on key projects, and a community's on the rise as residents like James Ka and Lezlie Kiaha, both Kamehameha Schools alumni, make a home in Kaka'ako.

Ka is a first-time homeowner who returned to Honolulu in 2012 after more than a decade in Los Angeles. Three years into building his own business, he managed to qualify for one of the 85 affordable units at Keauhou Place, the newest of the KS properties, which opened last year. From his corner unit on the 27th floor, life is settling into a nice routine: coffee on the lānai before heading to the office just three blocks away.

Kiaha is a former graphic designer and recent law school graduate. She lives in the Flats at Pu'unui, a KS rental development where all 88 units are reserved for middle income earners. "Living down here and working as a young professional, it's inspiring," Kiaha says. It's close to the courts where she'll work and surrounded by a buzzy art and music scene that feeds her creative side. "I can't see myself anywhere else right now."

Lezlie Kiaha

block from SALT, the creative and commercial hub of Kaka'ako.

"If people don't have the means to afford a place to live, and to live in a pono way, then we can't realize the vision of a thriving lāhui. We're developing the land so that our keiki can come back and build their own communities, where they can live their Hawaiian values."

IN 2017, Kamehameha Schools completed the rollout of one of its largest professional development initiatives: ‘Ōlelo Kahua, a series of Hawaiian language classes for employees. All regular staff members attend one two-hour session each month, with the goal of increasing ‘Ōlelo Hawai‘i’s use. Each lesson brings a deeper understanding of Hawaiian values, knowledge, history, and practices. So not only is language proficiency improving among staff, kuana‘ike Hawai‘i (Hawaiian perspective) is as well, and that’s a powerful source of ideas and innovation.

The benefit of programs like ‘Ōlelo Kahua is that employees can take what they learn and practice it at home and in their communities. In her 10 years at KS, Shawna Medeiros said she believes that the presence of culture in the workplace has never been stronger. She’s able to take that ‘ike (knowledge) and share it with her daughter Kamaha‘o, a student at Hālau Kū Māna, at home. “Her cultural grounding is her hōkūpa‘a, her north star,” Medeiros says. Whether it’s practicing ‘ōlelo (language), building pilina (relationships), or going on huaka‘i (excursions), providing cultural education opportunities for our employees help drive cultural vibrancy across the lāhui.

“As we collaborate locally or with partners across the water, we bring our cultural values with us. That’s what it means to be part of a Native Hawaiian organization.”

—DARREL HOKE,
KS EXECUTIVE VICE
ADMINISTRATION

KS employee Shawna Medeiros values the opportunities to engage with community partners and cultural practitioners, which feeds her growth as a Native Hawaiian.

"I think we're at a point where 'āina is critical to our mission and vision. Our 'āina legacy and educational mission, in my mind, are inseparable. If 'ike Hawai'i is critical to successful education for Hawaiians, then 'āina is critical to the success of our educational mission because 'āina is intrinsic in 'ike Hawai'i."

SOME OF HAWAII'S LAST reserves of intact native forest are found on Kamehameha Schools' lands, and their preservation has long been a priority. Last year, Kamehameha Schools made its kuleana pa'a with the adoption of a Safe Harbor Agreement, signed along with DLNR and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

In any Safe Harbor Agreement, a private landowner voluntarily agrees to undertake actions that protect threatened or endangered species. This particular agreement covers 32,280 acres of land in Ka'ū where, through habitat restoration and other management practices, we're working to accelerate the recovery of seven native bird species, 25 plant species, and the 'ōpe'ape'a (Hawaiian hoary bat).

Of special significance is the 'alalā, a species of native crow that nearly went extinct and hasn't existed in the wild for nearly two decades. After years of careful preparation, scientists believe the 'āina is finally ready for the 'alalā's return. The land has been fenced and cleared of introduced predators, a protective understory has grown in, and food sources have returned.

It's a remarkable story with a simple lesson: everyone thrives in a healthy ecosystem.

BUILDING ON PAUAHI'S LEGACY OF GIVING

PAUAHI FOUNDATION

ON NOV. 4, 1887, Ke Ali'i Bernice Pauahi Bishop established a legacy that has since impacted thousands of lives through education. That legacy continues to live on through Kamehameha Schools' diligent work to fulfill its mission coupled with the generosity of many who have come together to give back to the Hawaiian community with a gift to the Pauahi Foundation.

As one of the most imaginative philanthropists of her time, Pauahi was a true beacon of generosity. I want to mahalo our more than 1,000 donors who choose to give not to Pauahi, but with Pauahi with over $1.5 million in gifts for fiscal year 2017. Your generosity is the true definition of kahiau (selflessness) and builds on her legacy of giving!

The section that follows honors our donors and their commitment to our lāhui Hawai'i. It includes a handful of stories to celebrate the diversity of our donor 'ohana and their "why" for emulating Pauahi's giving ways. The section also highlights the students who have been impacted by the collective generosity.

Kamehameha Schools strives to create a statewide environment where our learners can thrive. We must continue to partner and collaborate to ensure we all collectively perpetuate Pauahi's vision.

Again, thank you for all that you do for our lāhui Hawai'i.

Me ka ha'aha'a,

TARA WILSON

*Director of Advancement, Kamehameha Schools
Executive Director, Pauahi Foundation*

KA HUI NOE

$250 - $499

The noe mist is a gently settled mist. It has been said that the sweet fragrance of the maile is kept fresh and moist by the misty rain. Similarly, donors of the Foundation refresh and invigorate the community through their generosity.

KA HUI 'OHU

$100 - $249

The 'ohu mist is a light misty cloud that covers mountains such as Haleakalā from top to bottom. This mist is also associated with great beauty. This giving level includes supporters whose gifts total from $100 to $249 during the fiscal year. Donors in this hui see the potential beauty that can come from the commitment of a gift.

KA HUI KILIHUNE

$1 - $99

Kilihune is a fine light windblown mist. Just like a fine mist, donors surround us with their support. This hui highlights the importance of the act of giving and all gifts can make a difference. The hui was established to honor donors who made contributions of $1 to $99 during the fiscal year.

2016-2017 SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

The Pauahi Foundation disbursed over $700,000 in scholarships to over 200 Native Hawaiian learners last fiscal year. Recipients ranged from high school seniors from Kamehameha Schools and other private and public high schools to current college students. A pleasant surprise was the number of non-traditional students who are now seeking the opportunity to get a college education after taking a break from school.

Our continued success is due to the many donors who have established and/or funded these educational opportunities. Pauahi's legacy lives on through their generosity.

$700,000

In scholarships disbursed in 2017 to

200+ Native Hawaiian learners

WILLIAM CROWELL

for his a family. With help from the Foundation's generous donors, he will finally be able to pursue his dream of earning a law degree from the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa.

JOEY PANTIL

2017 Recipient of the Kamehameha Schools Class of 1960 Scholarship and the Dr. Lori Ann Kim Scholarship

Joey Pantil knows that attending college isn't as easy for students from the Wai'anae Coast. For this reason, the 2017 Nānākuli High School graduate worked hard in school and applied for as many scholarships as possible. With help from the Foundation's generous donors, she is pursuing her degree at Chaminade University.

FRANCESCA JOHNSON

2017 Recipient of the Pauahi Scholars and DeWitt Wallace Scholarship

2016-2017 Scholarship Recipients

Mahalo nui to the thousands of donors who made the choice to join the Pauahi Foundation in uplifting our lāhui. Your gift ensures that more of our Hawaiian learners have a chance at a better life through education.

Why We Give

“Pauahi’s legacy of giving has impacted countless numbers of beneficiaries including two generations of my ‘ohana. Whether it’s in time or money, it’s important that we do the same by uplifting our Hawaiian community.”

MARK CRABBE KSK’80

TECHNICAL SERGEANT, AIR NATIONAL GUARD

MARK CRABBE is a true servant leader, stemming from a humble upbringing steeped in Christianity and grounded in Hawaiian culture. His parents, Mogul Crabbe KSK ’48 and Rose Na‘auao Pelayo KSK ’52, made sure that Mark and his six siblings respected others and lived their lives with aloha (compassion) and ha‘aha‘a (humility). He entered Kamehameha as a ninth-grader and was quickly drawn to the school’s celebrated ROTC program. After graduating in 1980, Mark went on to serve 11 years in the U.S. Air Force before moving on to the Air National Guard, where he currently serves on a part-time basis.

Mark gives to the lāhui through the Pauahi Foundation because Ke Ali‘i Bernice Pauahi Bishop and Kamehameha Schools have provided him, his ‘ohana, and countless beneficiaries the opportunity to succeed in life.

JESSI HALL KSK’92

VICE PRESIDENT,
KALINO FOUNDATION

THE KALINO FOUNDATION is on a mission to improve Native Hawaiian well-being. In 2015, the non-profit partnered with the Pauahi Foundation to create a fund for Native Hawaiian students pursuing degrees in medical-related fields and has since awarded over $24,000 in financial support.

“Our partnership with the Pauahi Foundation extends our reach into the Hawaiian community by helping our people improve their lives through education, and ultimately, put them in the position to pay it forward.”

Manawale‘a

BENJAMIN ANCHETA KSK'90

FOUNDER AND PRESIDENT, HULIAU CAPITAL

BEN ANCHETA IS WHAT WE CALL a KS lifer. He entered at kindergarten, flourished as a scholar and an athlete, and graduated in 1990. With the help of scholarships from the Pauahi Foundation, Ben earned a BA in economics from Carleton College and an MBA from UCLA. He has spent two decades working in and leading high-growth companies locally and on the continent. Today, he's the founder and president of Huliau Capital, which creates exit strategies for owner-operated businesses in Hawai'i so that management and jobs stay local.

"In a sense Pauahi adopted all of us, the many generations of Native Hawaiian children who followed after her passing, as her own. I often think that her gift of opportunity comes with a great responsibility to pay it forward for the benefit of others."

DUANE KSK'72 AND BETTE CHUN

GLADYS E. AND CLIFFORD T.F. CHUN SCHOLARSHIP

WHEN THE TIME CAME for Duane and Bette Chun to finance their daughter's college education, their options were limited. Together, they earned more than need-based scholarships would allow but not enough to cover the full cost of tuition. After experiencing this all too common dilemma, the Chuns approached the Pauahi Foundation and established a fund that would help other families in their situation. For six years, they made periodic donations, matched by First Hawaiian Bank's matching gift program, and in 2014, they awarded their first scholarships. Named after Duane's parents, the scholarship honors their love of education and serves as that "last hope" when a family's options fall short.

"Many families struggle to put their children through college. We decided to step up and be a part of the solution."

‘EWALU MO‘OLELO, HO‘OKAHI PO‘OMANA‘O

EIGHT STORIES, ONE VISION

“When we think about education, our goal is to develop, grow and build our future leaders. We know that when our leaders lead locally, they will lead globally.”

—LIVINGSTON “JACK” WONG, KS CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

O HE HŌ‘IKE‘IKE NĀ MO‘OLELO ‘EWALU i loko o kēia hō‘ike kū makahiki i nā ‘ao‘ao e ho‘oikaika ‘ia ai ka lāhui i ke alu like ‘ana o ke Kula Kamehameha me nā hoa o nā kaiāulu, nā ‘ohana, nā keiki, a me nā ‘ōpio. THE EIGHT STORIES featured in this year’s annual report showcase the ways in which Kamehameha Schools, together with community partners, ‘ohana, keiki and ‘ōpio are strengthening the lāhui. Recognizing the deep wisdom behind this year’s theme of Makawalu, we celebrate and draw from the stories of individual and collective success. In the same breath, we close this year’s annual report in the hope that it has captured the richness of perspectives and opportunities available to Native Hawaiian learners today.
