Aloha mai kākou,

With a kind act of selfless giving and true servant leadership, Ke Ali‘i Bernice Pauahi Bishop established a legacy that has enriched the lives of over 100,000 Native Hawaiians. Despite the progress that has been made since her passing, our Native Hawaiian community continues to need assistance in several areas. The Kamehameha ‘ohana, working together, has the great opportunity and privilege to emulate the giving ways of our benefactor, thereby collectively elevating all Native Hawaiians in perpetuity.

As a Kamehameha Schools support organization, Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation remains dedicated to ensuring that the legacy of generosity that Pauahi passed on to us through her actions reaches out beyond the boundaries of the Kamehameha Schools, that it touches the lives of larger numbers of Native Hawaiians. In fiscal year 2011-2012 (FY 2011-2012), donors to the Foundation generously provided more than $600,000 in gifts toward the future of our Hawaiian community.

Donations from Kamehameha alumni continued at a rate consistent with the prior fiscal year – 5 percent of our more than 22,000 graduates made donations to the Foundation. During FY 2011-2012 one of the outstanding events was our Kamehameha Schools Alumni Golf Tournament held in honor of Dr. Michael J. Chun KSK‘61. The net proceeds of the event exceeded $40,000, an amount double that which was raised at the annual event held the prior fiscal year.

The Kamehameha Schools’ workplace giving campaign in October 2011 raised nearly $76,000 in support of the Foundation’s mission – up 12 percent from the campaign held in FY 2010-2011 despite a slight drop in the total number of staff and faculty donors.

The focus of the Foundation, to provide educational opportunities to Native Hawaiians, is clearly shared by many in our community. In FY 2011-2012, the Foundation awarded 273 scholarships totaling $321,825. This amount is a 9 percent increase over the total FY 2010-2011 scholarship dollars awarded. The efforts of the Foundation team in nurturing and cultivating current and prospective donors resulted in the establishment of 12 new funds in FY 2011-2012, including four funds created by Kamehameha alumni classes and seven ‘ohana funds.

As of January 2012, the leadership of the Foundation has been strengthened by the restructure of its Board of Directors. The new seven-member board is a diverse group of professionals with close ties to the legacy of Pauahi; six alumni of the Kamehameha Schools are now members of the Board. At the staff level the Foundation welcomed Dancine Baker Takahashi KSK‘79 as the new director of alumni relations and Myron Mitsuyasu, CPA, as its new director of finance. Near the end of FY 2011-2012 the Board initiated a search for a new executive director and in September 2012 it hired Keawe Liu to fill the position. He brings to the Foundation much experience as a proven leader and fundraising professional.

The Foundation remains focused on ensuring that Native Hawaiians have opportunities to succeed in education and in life. It is committed to continuing the legacy of Pauahi, through the fulfillment of her vision for her people. You have the opportunity to move that vision forward by joining the Foundation in perpetuating the legacy of Pauahi, by evolving from beneficiaries to benefactors. I mua!

Me ka ha‘aha’a,

Caroline Peters Belsom KSK’66
Board Chair
I am excited to create new and wonderful partnerships with others who care about the vibrancy and collective success of our Lāhui. I give, not to Pauahi, but with Pauahi, because I know it makes a difference.
Aloha e Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation ‘Ohana,

What an honor it has been to join the team here at the Foundation. Since coming on board five months ago, it has been non-stop activity and a true feeling that there are so many exciting things to come. In this first message to all of our wonderful supporters, I want to tell you a little about me, and about what I think the Foundation can become for our Lāhui Hawai‘i.

I am not an alumnus of Kamehameha. But I am a beneficiary, as are my two children and other members of my ‘ohana. I am forever grateful to Ke Ali‘i Pauahi for her foresight and care in planning to prepare Hawaiians for a bright future. In many ways, without her gift to our people, my family would not have the educational foundation we now enjoy, and upon which we have built our lives.

It is for this reason that I give to the Foundation. It is for this reason I work daily to educate others about the importance of the Foundation and what it can do for the future of Hawaiians. And, it is for this reason that I am excited to create new and wonderful partnerships with others who care about the vibrancy and collective success of our Lāhui. I give, not to Pauahi, but with Pauahi, because I know it makes a difference.

In my short tenure here, one recurring theme has arisen that has given me pause. It is the notion that Kamehameha has “too much” and that there is no need to give because it won’t make a difference. I can say without reservation that this is simply not true. It is true that Kamehameha has a large endowment. It is true that Kamehameha does an enormous amount for our people. But it is also true that there is still significant need in our community. There are still Hawaiians that need a helping hand, not a hand-out, but rather, a hand UP. Kamehameha and the Foundation are not able to assist all those who have need. There are simply too many to help, and not enough resources. That is why we ask you to join us.

It is imperative that we reexamine our role in helping our whole Lāhui. We, who have been helped and nurtured by Pauahi’s gift, have now been given a wonderful opportunity, a wonderful gift. We have the responsibility to pass forward our gift, and ensure that there are none who are left behind.

Imagine our people as a whole. Imagine that we are a massive pōhaku filled with mana and promise. It is too heavy for one, or even a few, to lift. We must lift together, and importantly, we must lift from the bottom. When we do, we elevate the entire Lāhui, not just a part. It is our kuleana, and it is crucial.

Thank you to those who have committed to our mission and have made gifts to Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation. You are making a difference, and for that, I am so deeply appreciative. As we begin to look differently at what is needed in our community, I am confident that we will all realize the importance of coming together in unison to lift our people, collectively, and from the bottom.

Me ka ha‘aha’a,

Keawe Lanakila Liu
Executive Director

ABouT THIS REPORT

TRANSFORMING LIVES IN THE HAWAIIAN COMMUNITY
In FY 2011 – 2012, Ke Aliʻi Pauahi Foundation awarded $321,825 in scholarships to 273 Native Hawaiian students. Recipients ranged from high school seniors from Kamehameha Schools and other private and public high schools to current college students. A pleasant surprise was the number of non-traditional students who are now seeking the opportunity to get a college education.

Our continued success is due to the many donors who have established and/or funded these educational opportunities. Pauahi’s legacy lives on through their generosity.

Ashley Wendt KSM’12: Working towards a better life

Throughout high school, Ashley Wendt KSM’12 pushed herself to take on more than your ordinary teenager. She worked hard and excelled at her school work, as well as track and field. Off campus she volunteered for community service, held a part-time job, and helped her father raise her two younger brothers.

Wendt always felt that her drive and hard work would pay off with the opportunity to get a college education, and eventually a better life. Her family situation during high school was far from ideal. Her mom struggled with substance abuse for a number of years, which left her and her father to maintain the household.

“Our family struggled to live day to day,” said Wendt. “Getting a college education was the only way to advance my life.”

Despite being a top performing track and field athlete for Kamehameha, Ashley only received a handful of inquiries from colleges to be a scholarship athlete and knew she had to pursue other means to get a college education.

Through her diligence, Wendt was awarded a number of scholarships to cover the full cost of college for the first year. This included Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation’s Lokomakai‘i Scholarship and Mary Atherton Richards Scholarship.

“If not for these scholarships, I would’ve held off on college,” said Wendt.

Now in her first year at the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, her love for animals has led to a major in animal science with future plans to enter veterinary school on the mainland.

As only the third person in her family to attend college, she understands the great opportunity in front of her, not only for her future, but also an opportunity to serve as motivation for her younger brothers.

“My brothers and I have gone through the same trials and tribulations with my mom for the past six years,” Wendt said. “My hope is that they use my hard work as motivation to push towards a better life.”
Marleen Keanu: Elevating Beyond the Struggle

Marleen Keanu knows firsthand that need in our Hawaiian community still exist.

“I’m from the homestead where there’s homelessness, drugs, and alcohol,” said Keanu, a 2012 recipient of Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation’s Makalāoa Scholarships.

Unfazed, Keanu used the struggle as motivation to succeed, but points out that many aren’t as fortunate.

“The ones that need the help the most are usually the ones that don’t get the help,” Keanu added.

As an outreach coordinator at Blanche Pope Elementary in Waimānalo, Keanu helped families cope with the same problems she faced in her life. Unfortunately, she lost her job to lack of funding.

Rather than dwell on her sorrows, the 53 year-old Keanu decided to get a college education.

“My friend called me up after losing my job and told me you’re going to college,” said Keanu. “The next day I was enrolled, and weeks later, in my first class.”

Keanu is now in her second year at Windward Community College as a Hawaiian studies major with minor studies in psychology. An added bonus for her is the opportunity to share in the experience with her son, John, who is also attending Windward.

“Life could be better, but you don’t need to feel sorry for me. I’m blessed to have my family, a roof over my head, and the opportunity to get a college education,” Keanu said.

Pauahi witnessed firsthand the drastic decline in the Hawaiian population – from 124,000 at her birth to 40,000 at the time of her passing. She knew that education was vital to ensure the health and survival of the Hawaiian population. Her bequest to the Hawaiian people in 1884 has fostered many good and industrious men and women who have taken the opportunity to show their appreciation by giving to other Native Hawaiians.

Class of ’92: Sustaining a Legacy

“Pupukahi i Holomua,” or “to unite to move forward,” describes the coordination needed by a canoe crew to move forward quickly toward their destination.

This ‘ōlelo no’eau is a fitting description of how Kamehameha Schools’ class of 1992 rallied the alumni ‘ohana to raise funds for their class scholarship while continuing the legacy of benefactors that came before them.

Back in October 2011, a group led by Jennifer “Noelani” Goodyear-Kaopua KSK’92 discussed the idea of establishing a class scholarship to mark their upcoming 20th reunion.

“Our celebrating year was the motivation to reunite as alumni and give back collectively,” said Goodyear-Kaopua. “Many of our classmates were excited to help however they could.”

The class decided to name the scholarship after the late George “Kanalu” Young KSK’72, a Hawaiian studies professor at the Hawai‘inuiākea School of Hawaiian Knowledge at the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa.

Referred to by many as Kumu Young, he was chosen as the namesake of their class scholarship for the life he lived as an educator, Hawaiian cultural practitioner, mentor and a true servant leader, all while overcoming the obstacles faced as a quadriplegic. Kumu Young passed in August 2008.

“Kanalu was an inspiring human being on every level,” said Noelani, who had Young as a professor while studying at UH Mānoa. “Our scholarship shares his story and gives young Hawaiians hope that anything is possible.”

The scholarship will be offered to Hawaiian students committed to serving the Hawaiian community and those who demonstrate potential to make positive social change with interests in Hawaiian language, culture, and history. Preference will be given to students in fields in which Hawaiians are underrepresented.

The class used numerous fundraising activities to establish the endowment, including clothing sales and hosting the first annual Class of 1992 Canoe Regatta on June 8, 2012, at Ke‘ehi Lagoon.

The regatta, which was spearheaded by class members Audrey Taniguchi Hirayama, Kea Paiaina and Ron Lee, took advantage of the large gathering of alumni on O‘ahu during the 2012 Alumni Week.

“As a group, we wanted a cultural-based fundraising event,” Hirayama said.

In total, 16 crews from both celebrating and non-celebrating classes competed in various divisions while fellow alumni and family members cheered on from shore. Those in attendance included Kumu Young’s class of 1972 classmates, who entered a few crews in the regatta, and his mother, Gwen, and brother, Tommy.

“So many of us have been touched by the generosity of people like Kumu Young and Ke Ali‘i Pauahi,” Noelani said. “Giving back to other Hawaiians is something that we should all be doing.”

Through their work, Kamehameha Schools’ faculty and staff dedicate themselves to ensuring the vibrancy of Pauahi’s vision. Many of them understand firsthand that Kamehameha Schools can only help a portion of the Hawaiian population. For this reason, they choose to give to the Foundation so that more Native Hawaiians have the opportunity to flourish.

Preserving the legacy of a princess

When Janet Zisk, Kamehameha Schools’ first and only archivist, moved to Hawai‘i in the early 1980s, little did she know that she would be at the heart of preserving the legacy of a Hawaiian princess.

“Hawai‘i wasn’t my cup of tea. It was too much of a ‘touristy’ destination,” recalls Zisk, who moved from Boston with her husband, Stanley, when he took a position at the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa. “But when I arrived, the place was just stunning, and we never left.”

Hired in December 1991, Zisk has since been solely responsible for preserving the history of Kamehameha Schools. The year 2012 marked her 20th year on the Kapālama campus.

“I almost resigned when I realized the great responsibility I had in learning and passing on the knowledge and history of the school and Pauahi,” Zisk said. “I strongly hope my work helps our Hawaiian students appreciate their history and where they come from.”

In 2010, Zisk decided to support Pauahi’s legacy beyond her daily job responsibilities by establishing a scholarship with Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation.

The Janet and Stanley Zisk Scholarship is offered to Hawaiian students whose lives have been impacted, and maybe traumatized, by challenging circumstances, but because of their motivation have the potential to be successfully enriched by an educational opportunity, and who might otherwise miss the opportunity to attend college if it were not for the financial support.

“Pauahi nearly gave up hope but she understood that education was the way to advance her people,” Zisk said, “and my husband and I have had so much given to us, now it’s time to give some of that back.”
When several individuals come together for a single purpose, their collective impact can be tremendous. Together, we all have the ability to help more Hawaiian learners.

The lists that follow are the individuals, ‘ohana, groups and associations that, during 2012, came together to carry out Pauahi’s vision collectively.
Cachola ‘ōohana honors brother’s life

For the Cachola ‘ōohana, Kamehameha Schools was literally the glue that kept their family together and instilled the value of education.

“We were half-orphaned, and our father didn’t make enough money to raise six kids,” said Fred Cachola Jr. KSK’53, a historian, former DOE educator and principal, and the past director of Kamehameha Schools’ Community Education Division. “Child Welfare Services was ready to split us up but Kamehameha Schools and the Queen Lili‘uokalani Trust allowed us to stay together and get a good education.”

Four out of the six Cachola children attended Kamehameha with three of them, Fred Jr., Roy Cachola KSK’59 and Henrietta Cachola Kaleikau KSK’50, graduating. Sisters Faith “Nellie” Cachola Rocha, who attended Kamehameha before transferring to be closer to home, and Gladys Cachola-Gross both graduated from Kohala High School while sister Marie Kawai graduated from St. Anthony on Maui.

All were raised in a modest household in North Kohala, Hawai‘i, by their father, Fred Sr. He was an immigrant from the Philippines and very active as an educator, counselor and community member.

“My dad worked hard to raise us but I always said I have two wonderful aunties to thank, Princess Bernice Pauahi Bishop and Queen Lili‘uokalani,” Fred Jr. said.

When the opportunity presented itself, it was an easy decision for the family to show their appreciation by giving forward with a scholarship through Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation. The scholarship is named after Roy, who passed away in January 2001. A 30-year veteran flight attendant and instructor with United Airlines, he was the youngest of the family. Prior to his passing, Roy and his siblings made the decision to use his assets to establish their ‘ōhana scholarship.

“Through Kamehameha, we were prepared for college, but there were no scholarships available for us at the time,” Fred Jr. said. “Our scholarship allows more Hawaiians to get an education without the financial burden.”

Available starting the 2013-2014 academic year, the Roy L. Cachola Scholarship is open to high school graduating seniors enrolled in their first year of college. Preference is given to North Kohala residents and applicants of Hawaiian ancestry to the extent permitted by law. Applicants must demonstrate financial need and have a G.P.A. of 2.0 or above.

“It’s good to know that we have an outlet in the Foundation to extend the kōkua to other Hawaiians,” Fred Jr. added.
Many of Pauahi’s beneficiaries have moved on to become leaders of companies and organizations that make up the business community in Hawai‘i and abroad. Through their servant leadership and the support from their companies, the Foundation has generated funds essential in educating more Hawaiian learners.

Duane Chun: The perfect match

Duane Chun KSK’72 knows firsthand that a quality college education comes with a hefty price tag. It was just five years ago that he had the opportunity to send his daughter, Corinne Chun KSK’07, to Oregon State University. Unfortunately, his household income was too high to qualify for any scholarship, but not enough to pay for tuition without a struggle—a dilemma often faced by many families.

“Most scholarships are need-based and we didn’t qualify, so we struggled to put her through college,” Chun said. “After my experience, I knew it was important to give others an opportunity to go to college by establishing a scholarship.”

Employed at First Hawaiian Bank for 35 years now, Chun utilized the company’s matching donation program, and supplemented that with funds from Ke Ali’i Pauahi Foundation’s matching incentive program to create and build his scholarship fund.

The scholarship, which is named in honor of his parents Gladys E. and Clifford T.F. Chun, took five years to grow and now has enough funds to be awarded for the upcoming 2013-2014 academic year.

“By leveraging matching gift programs through my employer and the Foundation, I was able to create my parents’ scholarship.” Chun added, “The fund will continue to grow every year by utilizing my employer’s generous match.”

Chun, whose daughter is now a college graduate and back home teaching in Wai’anae as part of the Teach for America program, encourages people to give back, especially those who now have the resources to help.

“Whether it’s a scholarship in honor of your parents or family, what’s better than knowing your scholarship helped students get a college education,” said Chun.
MEMORIAL GIFTS

Gifts contributed in memory of loved ones, friends and colleagues are special ways to pay tribute to those who were an important part of our lives. They were lovingly remembered with gifts to the Foundation. Kamehameha Schools’ alumni are recognized with their graduating year.

Elizabeth Kuʻulei Bell Scholarship

In 1941, and at the young age of nine, Elizabeth Kuʻulei Bell was diagnosed with Hansen’s disease and later exiled to Kalaupapa – the settlement of Hansen’s disease patients on the rugged north coast of Molokaʻi. Born in Honolulu, she was separated from her family to live out the rest of her life on this isolated peninsula – a fate that more than 8,000 patients were forced to accept from 1866 to 1969.

Despite the pain and suffering she endured from being banished, Bell lived and enjoyed her life to the fullest.

“My aunty went all out in life,” said Mark Ellis, Bell’s grand nephew by marriage and the family member she entrusted to carry out her will after she died from cancer in 2009. “She got married, had two kids, and held many jobs during her time there including sheriff and postmistress.”

Both Bell, and her husband, Edward, were wise to save and invest during their time at Kalaupapa. Edward, was a highly educated man and Kalaupapa’s judge. Their two kids, a boy and a girl, were taken away after birth because of fear of contracting the disease and grew up on Oʻahu.

Later in life, Bell turned her focus on fighting for the rights and recognition of the patients of Kalaupapa. At one time, she was the president of the Patients’ Association, and later, in 2003, helped form and lead, as its president, Ka ʻOhana o Kalaupapa – a nonprofit organization with the mission of preserving the stories of the Hansen’s disease patients.

“She would often be invited to speak at different engagements where she would share the stories of the people and life on Kalaupapa,” said Ellis. “She helped ensure that the patients were not forgotten.”

Bell came to Oʻahu to receive cancer treatment at Hale Mohalu. Ellis and his wife, Kehau, who is Elizabeth’s grandniece, often took her around to shop and run errands.

“One thing about my aunty, she was always flamboyant and liked to shop,” added Ellis. “But she also felt grateful for her life, and was always willing to give and help others.”

When she passed in 2009, one of her wishes was to establish a scholarship that would help the people from the “top side” of Molokaʻi.

“Despite her life in Kalaupapa, my aunty was grateful for all she had, and wanted to give it forward to the people from the top-side,” said Ellis.
Throughout her life, Pauahi was moved to help Hawaiians realize a better life. Not known by many is the time she spent as an advocate and advisor for her people. In fact, she would often be found under her tamarind tree listening to the concerns of, and offering advice to, Hawaiians of all backgrounds.

There are many individuals and groups who choose to give beyond their hard-earned monetary donation by also giving their personal time as a volunteer. We thank them for their tireless efforts.

O ‘Ohana
2012 Alumni Golf Tournament and Banquet in Honor of Dr. Michael J. Chun

“‘Ike aku, ‘ike mai, kōkua aku kōkua mai; pēlē ihola ka nohona ‘ohana,” is an ‘ōlelo no’eau that embodies the true meaning of ‘ohana and the mutual recognition and help that is needed within.

This very sentiment was the spirit upon which the June 2012 Kamehameha Schools Alumni Golf Tournament and Banquet was based.

Hosted by Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation, the annual tournament gave the Kamehameha ‘ohana an opportunity to reminisce on past memories and appreciate the many blessings provided by the generosity of Ke Ali‘i Pauahi.

This year’s event, however, held greater significance from previous years, as many came out to mahalo and recognize the tournament’s honoree, Dr. Michael J. Chun KSK’61.

To account for a larger turnout, the tournament was expanded to two golf courses, Pearl Country Club and Ewa Beach Golf Club. For the first time, no scores were kept, and the goal to win fell second to the simplicity of having fun and honoring the legacy of Dr. Chun.

An awards banquet followed at the Honolulu Country Club, where over 200 in attendance enjoyed good company with Hawaiian music, impromptu hula, and delicious food, creating a “back yard party” feeling.

During the memorable ceremony, Dr. Chun was presented with a mahiole (helmet), ihe (wooden spear), and makau (wooden fish hook), all of which represented his spirit as a true warrior. In the bittersweet moments of his acceptance speech, it was hard not to see the same love and humility that one would expect to see in Princess Pauahi. The event raised a net of $42,127 that will go towards scholarships at the Foundation.

“It’s not about giving back to the school,” stated Gil Tam KSK’66, committee chair for the tournament. “It’s about giving back to the vision.”

The success of the tournament was the result of a dedicated team of Foundation staff, volunteers and supporters.

TRANSFORMING LIVES IN THE HAWAIIAN COMMUNITY
Giving to the Foundation

Contributions made to Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation reflect gifts from the heart and will help to carry forward the vision of Ke Ali‘i Pauahi to empower Hawaiians through education.

Ke Ali‘i Pauahi Foundation is a 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt organization; therefore, contributions made to the Foundation are tax deductible to the extent permitted by law.

Additionally, 100 percent of your gift goes to help others, as Kamehameha Schools covers the Foundation’s entire operational cost.

Unrestricted Donations

Unrestricted gifts allow the Foundation the flexibility to respond to the areas of most critical need. These outright gifts include cash, appreciated property (real estate, stock) or tangible personal property.

Restricted Donations

Restricted gifts define a program, project or scholarship of special interest to the donor.

Tribute Gifts

Tribute gifts are made in honor or memory of individuals, family members, friends or colleagues. This is a meaningful way to honor loved ones.

Future Gifts

A future gift is arranged now, but the Foundation’s use of the funds is delayed to a later time. The funds from bequests are available to utilize at the end of the donor’s life. Other ways of making a future gift are naming the Foundation as beneficiary of a portion of an IRA or other retirement plan, a life insurance policy, or by establishing a charitable remainder trust with the principal payable to the Foundation when the trust terminates.

Corporate Matching Gifts

Corporations will often match an employee’s charitable gift dollar for dollar. Please check with your employer to see if your contribution qualifies for this category.
